Full Description :

Solid fragment of a hollow, anthropomorphic, single-chambered ocarina which depicts a flat-faced, bent-arm seated figure. The figure includes the lower portion of the body with a thin, raised-band neck ornament with an oblong pectoral. The arms are rectangular and end in small, raised, rounded hands without fingers. The legs are also rectangular and end in slightly jutting, rectangular feet. There is a flat space between both the arms and the legs. The interior chamber is smooth and includes two stops (0.41 cm = diameter). No paint, slip, or firing core. The exterior surface is slightly fire damaged.
